

B. C. S. Bulletin To Old Boys

VOL. XXI No. 1 COMPILER: H. L. HALL. M.A. ('16-'27) NOVEMBER 1961

A plaque, honoring the late Brigadier A. Hamilton Gault ('95-'97), founder of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, and Canadian Servicemen who died in the two World Wars, was unveiled on October 19, at Ypres, Belgium, at St. George's Chapel on the First World War battlefield, by Lady Patricia Ramsay, Colonel-in-Chief, for whom the Regiment was named when it was formed in 1914.

REMEMBER WHEN -- the lighter side of School life:

The housemaster cured boys of 'snitching' his Old Virginia by mixing a lot of dried leaves in it, and they wondered what foul blend he had changed to!

REMEMBER WHEN -- (cont'd)

... The housemaster cured boys, when they lined up for leaves-out, of 'snitching' his brand-new gramophone needles, by leaving around piles of old, worn-out needles!

... "Ma Bell" used to scream like an Indian on the warpath, to scare away certain boys raiding the pantry for grapes!

... The housemaster dallied too long one night in a room, shared by two prefects, when they had only two slices of bread which they already had in a toaster, stuck out of the window on a hockey stick... and the bread was burnt to a frazzle!

... The announcement was made in the Dining Room to leave the silverware (relics of the old School) alone, until after Grace was said... which was interrupted by laughter!

... Early morning detention drill was in vogue, and to satisfy parents' requests that boys not work on an empty stomach, two dry, soda crackers were issued to each boy!

... Your Compiler of the Bulletin, during the War Years, got copies of his Matric Class French notes mixed up with the sheets of the Bulletin, and sent them all off to those on Service in North Africa!

... The fourth former conceived a grand passion for a sultry screen star, and phoned her Lennoxville to Hollywood at her studio's expense, and got through!

... The School marched to Chapel as a Corps and had to break step crossing the old, Long Bridge (Walk or Pay Two Dollars), or else break the Bridge in crossing it!

... The Fifth Former definitely didn't want to stand chatting to the master in the Cloisters, as the cigarette in the palm of his hand was beginning to burn the lining of his trousers' pocket!

... The water failed to come into the main buildings for a few days, and the whole school was divided into "walking groups" for natural reasons, and the youngest group had to go out "walking" again, as its members didn't fully comprehend the purpose of the first walk -- and wondered what holiday was being celebrated!

... The members of the Fifth and Sixth Forms suddenly became interested in taking private music lessons, after Mr. Sawdon retired and Miss... replaced him!

... The Chapel organ had to be pumped by hand bellows, and the Chaplain gave an unusually short sermon and the "pumper" had gone out for a quick "drag", which wasn't quick enough!

... The master was fully prepared to soak 120 minutes drill to every boy he saw downstairs after lights-out, only to discover that an earthquake had taken place while he was crossing the fields, and hadn't realized it, and the boys were carrying out orders in anticipation of a second tremor!

... The sixth former had diligently rehearsed for reading at Morning Prayers, and instead of reading the opening chapter of St. Mark, read that of St. Matthews... and gave some 'fancy pronunciations' to the descendants of Abraham!
